Teachers' Institute.

After effecting an organization, drafting a program, &c., which consumed the entire forenoon of the first day of the Institute, that body did not get down to actual work until it re-assembled for the afternoon session. Beginning at the bottom of the ladder, primary reading and spelling were then introduced by Mrs. J. F. Gover, who read an excellent essay on these topics, supplementing with some apt illustrations. Misses Cettie Thurmond and Alice Stuart followed her with some timely hints on the object of picture method, which Prof. Pulliam pronounced more compatible with this age than the old way of conning over a b c's, and pounding by hard licks the art of spelling and reading into the pupil. Mr. Hughes here took the floor and declared that the teacher, in many cases, was compelled, through fear of being fired by the trustees, to pursue the old method.

The principles of advanced reading, viz: pronunciation, articulation, emphasis, gestures and getting the sentiment of what is read, were all dwelt upon at some length by Messrs. W. R. Cress, J. A. Chappell and Misses Kay, Thurmond and Ellison. They all advocated the rejection of the fifth and sixth readers, and supplanting them with historical or newspaper readings.

Written and oral spelling brought out some good suggestions from Miss Cettie Thurmond, and Messrs. Cress, Davis, Barren and Smith, the latter's being perhaps the most practical.

A short talk on the general make-up and standing of the teacher of '91-'92, by Prof. McClary, wound up the day's proceedings.

TUESDAY.

"Penmanship" was first on tap Tuesday morning, being introduced by W. J. Edmiston. Fully two hours were occupied in illustrating and elucidating this all important art, in which teachers as well as others are so deficient. The plan pursued by M. J. Brough, who, by the way, is a specialist in that line, and a penman of exquisite nicety, was very excellent and received the commendation of all. W. R. Cress' "arm movement" and Mrs. Gover's "plate practice," in this connection, were also well received.

The necessity and the feasibility of teaching language lessons was shown by Miss Stuart in a well-written, strong-pointed essay, which was followed by Prof. Pulliam, who cordially indorsed Miss Stuart's ideas.

Grammar and composition followed in the train of the language lessons; and, on this subject, quite a battalion unlimbered their cannon, among them Pulliam, Chappell, Davis, Barren, Cress, Hughes, Smith, Meachum, Mrs. Gover, Misses Thurmond, Stuart, Lewis, and others. As to grammar, Pulliam thought that the public generally tried to cover too much ground; but with the aid of Latin grammar could succeed. Miss Stuart thought syntax ought to be taught first, and Prof. Smith took the floor and analyzed the verb from Medea to Mecca, by way of explaining how he taught the science. His talk was very instructive. Prof. Davis, having written a few squibs and newspaper paragraphs, was called out on composition and explained his method of imparting the secret of that art in a way that elicited the concurrence of the majority. Profs. Smith, Hughes, Cress and Pulliam each gave entertaining views on this subject.

Wednesday afternoon, upon invitation, Mrs. Allen, of Tennessee, read a most excellent paper, entitled "Science in the Public Schools." It was listened to with much attention, and voted a part of the Institute's data.

The last half-hour was devoted to a spelling match for Prof. Pulliam's prize of a $5 map of the United States, after which on the invitation of Prof. J. M. Hubbard a motion was made, seconded and carried to hold the sittings of the Institute at the College on the morrow.

WEDNESDAY.

So Wednesday morning, in the College chapel the exercises were resumed with arithmetic, which occupied the entire forenoon. Mrs. Gover introduced primary arithmetic, and demonstrated how easy it was for a child to get a knowledge of the art of calculating, when it is properly simplified. Mr. Brough led off on mental arithmetic and he, Cress, Hughes and Chappell, ventilated their ideas of its importance and the best methods of teaching it. Mrs. J. M. Hubbard also gave a talk on this, which embodied all that is thorough, analytical and practical on the subject. In connection with this topic, Prof. Pulliam took occasion to pay a fine tribute to the mathematical genius of Prof. Abner Rogers.

Advanced Arithmetic followed; and, in this wise, and to many, a stubble field, Prof. Smith was allowed to turn himself loose. By principle and not by mechanical combinations he said was his method, and during a period of 45 minutes he held the attention of all on his analysis of multiplication, compound numbers and common fractions.

Physiology was next introduced by N.

W. Hughes, who, having once been a student of medicine, was well equipped to give a splendid talk, which he did, supplemented with diagrams and figures that showed that this science could be made very easy and taught with encouraging success in all public schools.

But the most blooming oasis in the dry desert of the day's proceeding was Prof. Smith's lecture on psychology, which, on account of the novelty of the theme and the admirable manner in which the professor treated it, was listened to very attentively. He followed Mr. Steele's line of thought, illustrating his ideas with personal incidents and observations culled from his own eventful experience. Miss Cettie Thurmond liked Prof. Smith's outlines, but thought that psychology might be compressed under these three heads, intention, attention and retention.

The kindergarten was allowed to go by the board; and the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to re-organizing the County Teachers' Association. Profs. Pulliam and McClary each made some pertinent remarks on the importance of a guild of this kind, and, on motion of Prof. McClary, who now, with grateful acknowledgement for the honor that had been conferred upon him, resigned his place as president of the association of 1890, the Institute proceeded to organize and elect a new set of officers. After an exciting contest, enlivened by nominations, motions, counter-motions and spurts of eulogistic oratory, the following officers were declared elected: John A. Chappell, president; J. W. Smith, vice president; Mrs. J. F. Gover, secretary and treasurer, and R. Lee Davis, editor. The newly elected president at once took the chair and regaled the Institute with a 15 minutes speech, that shook the building with applause.

THURSDAY.

These two spicy and exhilarating themes, history and geography, were reserved until Thursday. The former was introduced by Mr. Davis, who confined his 20 minutes remarks chiefly to United States history and the history of Kentucky. He said that the "dark and bloody ground" was especially rich in historical lore; and it should be studied by us as thoroughly as the Scotch do the annals of Bruce and Wallace. Prof. W. F. Niles, of Boyle county, followed Mr. Davis and showed up his method of teaching U. S. history, which is undoubtedly a most efficient and practical one. Messrs. T. S. Benson, W. R. Cress and J. A. Chappell likewise added opinions as to how history should be taught.

Geography was lengthily and learnedly discussed by Misses Bettie Carter, Alice Stuart, Mrs. Gover and others; and several new and practical ideas were suggested and commended to the notice of the teacher. Mrs. Gover's talk on self culture was here given, and was immensely enjoyed. Her keynote was to train the moral as well as the intellectual faculties, which as Samuel Smiles says, can be best done by means of good instruction, good associates and good books.

Quotely and intangible as it usually is, civil government had something of a charm about it under the treatment of J. A. Chappell, who, possessing a natural genius for politics and law, sailed into the subject with a vim and ardor that pleased even the women. He explained the workings of the country, State and National governments, in succession, and wound up with a flourish in favor of the constitution. W. R. Cress, N. W. Hughes, Prof. Goodnight and others came into the field bringing their cohorts and the discussion became hot and sizzling in several points, while the these learned civilians happened to differ on. School government was also handled in this connection, and the young teacher, who hadn't been deeply initiated heretofore, got several good suggestions as to how those fly-catching, sleepy headed, one-galowed urchins should be handled. "How to elevate the standard of teachers" was partially discussed by the examiners and left for the Association to complete, after which the Institute upon Mr. Walton's invitation adjourned in a body to the INTERIOR JOURNAL office, where they enjoyed the novel and exhilarating sight of seeing the best country paper in the State come hot from its steam presses.

NOTES.

Didn't Prof. Niles look a little Hays-y? Talk more next time, younger teachers.

W. R. Cress is something of an orator, isn't he?

How did you like Prof. McClary's "cur-ric-u-lum?"

The apples furnished by the Misses Thurmond were delicious.

Profs. Smith and Brough were conspicuous for their bald heads.

The editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL honored the Association with daily visits.

Prof. Smith is a speller from long law but don't tell him, or it will rouse his "rath."

"How much salary does Chappell get to enlorge his friend Davis?" was the question several were heard to ask.

It would be hard to tell who was the prettiest teacher present; but was there really a single ugly one on the ladies side?

"He is a perfect picture of manly beauty," was the comment of a light-eyed belle on our East End teacher of the dndish pattern.

Miss Kate Bogle carried off the spelling match prize over 60 odd competitors, missing only five out of 64 of the hardest words in the English language.

Among the non-resident teachers who visited the Institute and took part in the exercises were Mrs. Phillips, of Mercer; Mrs. Allen, of Tennessee, and Prof. W. F. Niles, of Boyle.

The Portman House was headquarters for the male portion of the pedagogues, and their levees there every evening after supper were scenes of indescribable mirth and hilarity.

T. S. Benson, a cousin of the famous Luther Benson, and who thinks Casey county the best "sang" region in the habitable globe, says he has a particular aversion for bald-headed cranks.

Prof. J. M. Hubbard and his excellent wife deserve the thanks of the Institute for the proffer of the College chapel, and especially for the numerous courtesies extended to the teachers while there.

"Oh! isn't he handsome," said one "ma'am" as she gazed upon the tall, portly figure of a red-haired pedagogue. "Yes, but he's married," said a bystander, and the "ma'am" maid hung her head in dejected loveliness. Ah, woe is me!

In the list of the teachers published in Tuesday's issue the names of Miss Lizzie B. Withers, Miss Virgie White, Miss Alice E. Phillips, Miss Eliza Smith, Miss Kate Bogle, T. J. Cress, Miss Mollie Warren, Miss Lizzie Pettus, and Miss Maggie Martin were on account of their absence the first day unavoidably omitted.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Our town shows up dull, owing to the large number of our citizens who have been visiting the fairs in our neighboring towns.

—Mr. H. C. Kauffman returned to his home on Sunday last, and we are glad to note that his friends think his health has improved.

—Sickness is our excuse for lack of news items—though it may be that the world will be none the loser for not knowing that Miss Jemima Jane Sulphins is visiting Miss Polvina Ann Blifkins, or that Col. Hookemsniver is making his monthly pilgrimage to the city in quest of adventures.

—It is a source of pleasure to notice the favorable suggestions of the INTERIOR JOURNAL and Courier-Journal as to the propriety of selecting Col. W. G. Welch as one of the commission to revise the statutes under the new constitution. No man in the State is better qualified to discharge this duty than Col. Welch. Whether as a lawyer, a citizen, or a gentleman, Col. Welch is an ornament to his town, his county and his State. The world is better for having such men in it, and we trust that his days may be lengthened and his health preserved so that the influence of his presence may be felt and enjoyed by his countrymen for years to come.

—You have an account of the sudden death of J. H. Brown, a member of the Lancaster bar, on the morning of the 12th. He was in the office of your correspondent at 4 p. m. the evening before his death, and seemed to be in good health, though he had been quite ill several days last week. The members of the bar passed appropriate resolutions to his memory. J. H. Brown, or "Jim" as he was familiarly called, was a genial, whole-souled man; kind and generous to all his associates, and beloved by all who knew him intimately. He was a man of more than ordinary ability and gave prompt attention to his professional duties. It is said that his last words were "Good-bye boys, I'm gone." He is now beyond the reach of praise or censure, but none will remember his good deeds, his kindness of heart, or his generous benefactions with greater sincerity than your correspondent. "Peace to his ashes."

—The Advocate reports the deaths of Fred Harris, Sr., and Logan W. Caldwell. The former died at his home near Danville, Monday, of paralysis, aged 73, and the latter in Selma, Ala., of typhoid fever, aged 22. He was a son of Rev. R. H. Caldwell, and had only been married two months.

The State organizer of the prohibition party in Kansas says "there is more liquor sold and drunk to-day in Kansas than at any time since the passage of the amendment. There is a general letting down all over the State." The amendment to the constitution was adopted in 1880, and provides that the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall be forever prohibited in the State, except for medical, scientific and mechanical purposes.—Frankfort Capital.

BARBOURVILLE, KNOX COUNTY.

—Dr. D. Strauson, president of Union College, has had a new roof put on the school building. Attorney Joe Blair, of Pineville, was down to see Maj. Dishman, Tuesday.

—The Knox County Teachers' Institute is in session this week, and is being conducted in the chapel of Union College by County Superintendent Woodson and a gentleman from Versailles, Ky.

—The engine which pulled the evening passenger train by this place Monday evening broke down near Artemus, a small station near here, and the whole train had to be pushed into Middlesboro by a freight engine which had a train of freight cars behind it.

—Mr. G. L. Willis, the Louisville Times correspondent from Crab Orchard, occupies about two columns of space in his valuable sheet with quite interesting matter from that popular summer resort. One gets a writing up in "great shape" when Willis gives him a round.

—Mr. Chas. W. Shiveley and family are going to move to London in a short while to reside permanently. Miss Gertrude Paden, who is visiting her father, Mr. W. O. Paden, of Flat Lick, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Dishman a few days this week. Col. D. K. Rawlings was at Crab Orchard Springs the first of the week.

—Quite a pleasant party of young folks from London, among whom are W. B. Neal, Chas. M. Randall, Jas. M. Boring, Miss Kittie Jackson, Miss May Boring and others, are spending the week at "Ely Dale," this county. Before returning the party intend spending one day in Barbourville. Deputy Collector S. H. Kosh, of this district, was in town Monday, and left Tuesday for a trip to Niagara Falls.

In Memory of James H. Brown.

At a meeting of the Lancaster bar, August 13, 1891, on motion of Hon. W. O. Bradley, William Herndon was called to the chair and J. Mort Rothwell was elected secretary.

On motion, W. O. Bradley, W. J. Landrum, M. D. Hughes, Geo. R. Bradley and Letcher Owsley were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions. The committee reported the following:

Our brother, J. H. Brown, having departed this life, we, by this testimonial, express our sincere sorrow, and testify to his universal courtesy, kindness of heart, and generosity, as well as his capability, earnestness and fidelity in the discharge of his duties.

RESOLVED, That we attend his funeral in a body.

RESOLVED, That we tender to his bereaved family our sympathies.

RESOLVED, That the proceedings be published in the INTERIOR JOURNAL, the Mt. Vernon Signal, and the Central Record, and be spread at large upon the orders-book of the Garrard Circuit Court.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be given the widow of the deceased.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted and the meeting adjourned.

WM. HERNDON, Cl'n.

J. MORT ROTHWELL, Sec'y.

—Simon Weil bought in Mercer 150 head of 1,100 and 1,200 pound cattle at 3 1/2 to 4 cents.—Advocate.

—"Pittsburgh Phil," the turf plunger, is reported to have won $50,000 on his horse Kern, at Saratoga.

—The Junior Champion Stakes for two-year-olds, worth $27,000, was won by Sir Matthew in 1:13, six furlongs.

—The Hardin County Fair will be held at Elizabethtown Sep. 6-11. Secretary W. H. Gardner will accept the thanks of this office for invitation and ticket.

—The cattle market in Cincinnati is weak with best shippers at 5 1/2; butchers common to select 3 1/2 to 4 1/2, best hogs are worth 5 1/2 to 5 3/4, sheep are fairly active at 2 1/2 to 5 1/2, lambs 3 to 6.

—The growth of horse racing in the last 10 years is illustrated by the fact that in 1880 the money added to prizes by the racing associations amounted to $180,000. Now it reaches $4,000,000.

—Secretary T. Horace Clelland of the Marion County Fair and Trotting Association, honors us with a pressing invitation to attend the meeting which begins Aug. 18 and lasts four days. As excursion trains will run from Crab Orchard each day our citizens will no doubt attend in large numbers.

Maple Shade Stock Farm.

Mr. E. P. Fancione, of Danville, remarks: "I used your trial box of Quinn's Ointment and took a cure. Have since used two bottles. It is very satisfactory." Testimonials of this character are surely convincing evidence.

STANFORD, KY., - AUGUST 14 1891

Is a readable letter to the Louisville Times from Crab Orchard, Mr. George L. Willis, the versatile genius of that inimitable sheet, evolves from the inner consciousness of a pate, rather devoid of capillary adornment, though chucked full of ideas, a beautiful little story of how Col. Welch and Gen. Tom Harris seduced Judge Sam DeHaven, while discussing the age of some rare old whisky, into pointing out the weak points in the constitution, which Col. Welch, in turn embellished for the readers of the INTERIOR JOURNAL. It was taking advantage of a good and unsuspecting man, who was making speeches in favor of the adoption of his bantling, but all is fair in love and war, and the judge would be inconsolable did not he believe that his speeches won the fight, even if his material did help to secure a victory against the Constitution in Lincoln. So it turns out that everybody is happy and will ever afterwards so remain as long as Crab Orchard water and other more inspiring liquids flow. Willis should write a novel entitled "The Man in the Moon, or What I do not Know of the Hellish Conspiracy."

A GENUINE Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde case has been brought to light in Louisville. Dr. Harry Danbuck came to that city five years ago to study medicine. He remained a while at the Medical College and advertising for a wife soon secured one. They went to house-keeping and he settled down to a fair practice of his profession. It now transpires that he has a wife and eight children in Ogden, Utah, where he kept a drug store and answered to the name of E. J. Liddle. The wife at the latter place, whom he occasionally visited, became suspicious and through her brother began an investigation, with the above result. The much married man will be prosecuted for bigamy with a fine chance of spending a few years in stripes.

SOUTH DAKOTA is now the Mecca of those who seek divorce for purely selfish or imaginary causes. The laws are liberal and a residence of only 90 days is required before an application can be made. Most of the couples who seek such divorces were doubtless not joined together by God, and it may be well enough to grant them an abolition of their marriage tie, but no State should permit that contract to be broken except for good and sufficient cause. It should not be entered into lightly or dissolved for many other than scriptural reasons.

THE Louisville Times heartily seconds our nomination of Col. Welch as a member of the commission to revise the statutes, and it Gov. Brown will take to it as kindly, the appointment will be made. Says the Times: "As to Col. Welch's ability to perform the duties required by the position, all who know him will indorse fully what his home paper says. If the spur of necessity was applied to the flank of William G. Welch's talents he would easily take a place among Kentucky's foremost men."

THE constitutional amendment providing that the legal rate of interest shall not exceed 10 per cent., with only 6 collectable when the rate is not stated, was carried in Texas Tuesday by a large majority. The other amendments providing for registration in cities of 10,000 inhabitants and over and the Australian ballot system, for an increase of the school fund, for more extended facilities for adopting and enforcing local option and the creation of additional courts, were also carried.

WE must plead ignorance in justification of the charge made by Editor Logan in the Times of Wednesday. We are such a confirmed prohibitionist so far as prohibiting ourselves is concerned, that really we do not know anything about whisky except that it is very, very wicked to touch, taste or handle it. Consequently the sentence passed upon us will be accepted without murmur and without appeal.

THE bill to prohibit the sale of intoxicants within three miles of any church or school-house in Georgia, except in cities, having become a law, the prohibitionists propose to put the rural part of the State practically under prohibition by building more churches, schools and colleges. This way of killing two birds with one stone is bound to result in good. Let the good work proceed.

A SCORE of counties have so far failed to send their official returns to Frankfort, but enough is known to insure Gov. Brown a majority over Wood of between 27,500 and 30,000, about double that of Buckner over Bradley. So far as heard from the prohibition vote was less than 3,000, while the people's got about 20,000.

THE farmers alliance is being swindled all the time by designing sore heads who play upon its credulity. J. O. Wynn, State business agent of the alliance in Georgia, has defaulted to the tune of $50,000 or more, and others will when they get rope enough. Farmers, your only hope is in the democracy.

SENATOR FARWELL, of Illinois, who has recently been relieved of his job by Gen. Palmer, seems to have soured on things in general and President Harrison in particular. In an interview he says that if Harrison is nominated he won't carry a State except perhaps Vermont. He has the big head to such an extent that he has snubbed every republican senator who has called on him about public affairs. The Senator thinks that most any other republican can carry Illinois while Cullum could get 40,000 majority. Notwithstanding the talk of Farwell and other sore heads, Harrison is about as sure to be nominated as Mr. Cleveland. In which event Mr. Harrison will be permitted no longer to disturb the enemies he has in his own party.

Two distinguished editors and writers passed away Wednesday—James Russell Lowell, at Cambridge, Mass., aged 72, and George Jones, of the New York Times, at the ripe old age of four-score. Both were men of distinguished ability and left indelible footprints on the sands of time.

THE Shah of Persia caught one of his governors stealing. He promptly had him placed in a pot of water and boiled to death. A heroic remedy, but one that might prevail with good results among thieving republican office-holders in this country.

—A full fledged "blind-tiger" has been discovered in active operation in the capitol building at Atlanta.

—The privileges of the Clark County Fair Association were rented last week for $2,238, $1,000 more than last year.

—W. R. O'Malley, a saloon-keeper at Middlesboro, was fatally stabbed by David Worthington, whom he refused to credit for a drink.

—S. E. Bickford, proprietor of the Park Place Hotel, Middlesboro, has skipped to his former home in Michigan, after getting into the people $2,000 worth.

—Fourteen excursionists were killed and a number of others seriously wounded by the blowing down of the hurricane deck, during a severe storm in Cold Spring Harbor, L. I.

—The hottest August weather for 20 years has prevailed nearly all over the country this week, the mercury in many places in the East going over 100° in the shade. There were 40 fatal prostrations from heat in New York city and the death-rate everywhere has greatly increased.

—Gov. Buckner has commuted to imprisonment for life the sentence of death against the negro, Anthony Duncan, who killed Dr. Gorham, in Fayette, last fall, and reduced to three years the sentence of 21 years against Joseph and Campbell Noel, who killed James Langford at Harrodsburg, for seducing their sister.

—Seven thousand people saw G. W. Robinson's Nellie W. win a heat in 2:14, at the Nicholasville fair, the fastest ever trotted in a race South of Mason & Dixon's line. She didn't win another and after the race was taken very sick. Bonnie Wilmore was the winner and he reduced his record to 2:17½. Walter Herr was 3d.

—The earthquakes that shook the region at the head of the Gulf of California last week were accompanied by eruptions of mud volcanoes and streams of blazing sulphur, as well as by a gigantic tidal wave, said to have been fully a hundred feet high. Great damage was done to ranchmen in that region, and the Cocopah Indians had to flee to the mesa lands, many of their papooses being suffocated by the sulphur-laden atmosphere.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. W. Y. Sheppard will preach at the Methodist church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

—Elders J. G. Livingston and Stephen Collier have closed a meeting at Mt. Carmel, in Laurel county, which resulted in 7 additions.

—The Methodist Conference, South, of Kentucky, will meet at Harrodsburg, Sep. 2. Bishop Wilson, of Baltimore, will preside.

—The revival at the First Baptist Church, Middlesboro, has resulted in 26 additions, mostly by letter. Next Sunday will be the grand rally day.

—R. T. Barker, of New Bedford, Mass., claims to have read the Bible through 100 times since 1868. It usually takes him two months to read it from beginning to end.

—Among those who professed religion at the meeting at the Christian church is Mr. Hugh Hays. He intends to lead a new life and it ought to be the pride of every christian with whom he is thrown to assist him in doing so.

—J. C. Tulley, the preacher who drew a knife on Eld. H. L. Stine in the First Christian church of Paducah, in a quarrel over whether or not an organ should be put in the church, was fined $25 for disturbing religious worship on the trial of the case this week.

—Nine additions have so far blessed the efforts of Rev. Mark Collis at the Christian church, while the results otherwise will be felt through eternity. Tonight he will preach on the Change of Heart, a subject hard to understand by those who have not experienced it. Services will continue over Sunday at least. Several of those who have professed preferred the river to the baptism and their wishes were gratified by Rev. John Bell Gibson in Hanging Fork, Tuesday.

Chautauqua, N. Y.

DEAR INTERIOR—My stay in Chautauqua is almost over, we leave here Friday, but before leaving I want to say to you for the benefit of those desiring to study through the summer that from July 1st until the close of August the opportunities afforded here are not surpassed by any college in the land. This is my decision after taking the French course here under Prof. A. de Rougemont, and hearing others express themselves similarly, after pursuing the courses in Greek, Latin, German, Hebrew, Sanscrit, Mathematics, and English. The various professors are the best, presided over by Col. Parker, from Chicago, of the Cook county Normal School.

The weather is warm to-day, but has been cool mostly. The lake is beautiful, and should you ever come here, be sure to lodge where you may see it night and day. It is so tranquil and soothing. I send you by to-day's mail a copy of our daily. Hoping to be home soon, I remain as ever, a friend of the INTERIOR.

MARY S. BEAZLEY.
Indiana Cottage, Chautauqua, Aug. 10.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Only one arrest here during past three weeks.

—This county only gives 15 majority for the new constitution.

—We are under obligations to Mr. R. A. Welsh for late Virginia papers.

—"Tom" Hurley is the fastest engine driver on this division of the L. & N.

—Night telegraph offices have been re-opened at Hazel Patch and East Bernstadt.

—Teachers' Institute is in session here under the charge of Prof. J. W. Newman, an able teacher of Lexington.

—There are more children in Mt. Vernon under eight years than any other village of its number of families in the State.

—A steam thrasher, the first ever in this part of the mountains, owned by M. Bowers, thrashed Mr. H. C. Gentry's wheat Tuesday. Wheat is turning out well.

—Mr. W. R. Dillon is at work on a contrivance in the shape of a wire cage, which he intends using as a sleeping apartment. He believes it will protect him against hornets.

—Prof. Newman, who is conducting the Teachers' Institute here, has a rather youthful appearance of which he is often reminded by persons he meets. He reverses the old saying by stating that "he is older than he looks."

—The telegraph company has just finished stringing more wires between Richmond and Livingston. Livingston office is now furnished with an operator in addition to the agent and assistant on account of increase of business done there.

—Our thanks are due Judge J. G. Hazelwood, of Carthage, Texas, for late papers from the Lone Star State. The judge is a native of this county, having left here 35 years ago and located in Texas, where he has flourished in the practice of law.

—The examining trial of James Durham and Bill Damerel was called last Friday and set for Monday, when it was continued on account of the sickness of Mr. C. C. Williams, attorney for defendants. At the trial Damerel was held without bail.

—The increase in freight traffic over this division during the last three weeks has been immense. Twenty freight trains are now moving over this and the Norfolk & Western roads for Europe are large, probably averaging 80 cars per day.

—A party of young people went in wagons to Saltwater Cave, 10 miles east of here Saturday. This is the cave mentioned in the history of Kentucky where one of the ingredients for making gunpowder was procured in large quantities during the early settlement of the State.

—The remains of John D. Mullins were exhumed and Drs. Brown and Lovell extracted the ball from his head and found it to be a 38 calibre. This bears out the testimony of the witnesses who say that Damerel had a 38 calibre and Durham a 44 when the killing was done and that Damerel did the fatal work.

—Miss Belle Maret, a little Wildie beauty, was attending the Institute during the week. Miss Nancy Kennedy and sisters returned to Russellville Monday, much to the regret of many admirers. Messrs. D. N. M. C. and Richard Williams accompanied Mrs. James Brown to Lancaster Wednesday, where she returns to find her husband cold in death's embrace.

—The man arrested here last week as Wash Freeman proved to be William Perciful, as he claimed and was released. Jake Sallor, who is in jail, swore positively that he was Freeman, and that a large reward was offered for him for killing Charles Ashorn at Tazewell, Tenn. Telegrams from the authorities at that place stated that Freeman was not wanted, but a reward was standing for Charles Givens for same offense.

Pyrogranite is a new brick of Russian origin, that is being tried by English builders. It is made from a combination of fusible and infusible clay, and is strong and hard, resisting a crushing force of 5½ tons per square inch. It takes a high polish, and the clays may be mixed to give a great variety of colors.—New York Journal.

The people who sell typewriters and teach their customers how to use them have bothered their brains to evolve practice sentences which will contain all the letters in the alphabet. Here are a couple of ingenious sentences: "Pack my box with five dozen liquor jugs." "Jack quickly extemporized the five tow bags."

AND FOR YOUR KIND WORDS.—Our neighbor, Lincoln, was surrounded on all sides by warm advocates of the constitution, but the influence of her paper, the INTERIOR JOURNAL, proved effective in carrying the tide against it. Editor Walton has reason to feel proud of the result.—Advocate.

A DIFFERENT SET.—"You mustn't associate with chickens," said mother duck to her ducklings. "Why not, mamma?" "Because they are not in the swim."—Brooklyn Life.

MR. JOHN McROBERTS, of Toronto, Ind., has been visiting his uncle, Mr. Ed McRoberts.
PROF. H. H. ELLIOTT, of Elliott Institute, was here this week in the interest of that excellent school.

Mrs. M. E. LORR stopped over on her return from Barboursville, and spent a day or two with Mrs. R. C. Warren.
THE Misses Alcorn gave a progressive euchre party on Monday evening which was greatly enjoyed by those present.

MR. J. W. PULLIAM, who has been visiting his wife and relatives in this county, has returned to his home in Washington City.
MISS AMERSON THOMAS and Sallie Berryman, who have been with Mrs. W. B. McRoberts for some time, returned to Louisville Tuesday.

W. G. McKINNEY, of Decatur, Ala., is with his parents here. He is satisfied that the two best places on earth are Stanford and Decatur.
SHERIFF J. T. CONN, of Vernon, Texas, who has been on a visit to his brother, Wm. H. Conn, and other relatives in Garrard, returned home Wednesday.

E. H. KELSE, an adept in the business, is assisting Messrs. J. A. Madd and J. V. Clifford on the second and third tracks in the train dispatcher's office at Rowland.
MR. ARCH GREEN and family, of Bell county, have moved to the farm recently purchased of G. A. Peyton. Mr. Peyton will likely rent the Tony Harlan farm of John White.

OUR townsman, Mr. J. T. Carson, seems to be the best at Crab Orchard Springs. He leads nearly every German and has a number of the fair sex "on the string." On last Tuesday evening he and Miss Bessie Satterwhite, of Louisville, were the honored pair at the German.

MISS MATTIE PAXTON left Tuesday for Buffalo, Wyoming, to resume her position as assistant principal of the High School there, where she gave great satisfaction last session. She goes via Yellowstone Park and other places of interest, and will not arrive at her destination before Sep. 1. Her many friends wish her a pleasant journey and a successful scholastic year.

AFTER 15 years' continuous service, Mr. J. A. Carpenter will retire from the L. & N. to-day. As depot agent here he has made many friends, who unite in hoping that he will soon be restored to health and the position that he has filled so satisfactorily. Mr. F. L. Clifford, who has been agent at Rowland and is a very capable man, will take charge of the office here.

AUGUST has five Sundays and more moonlight than any month of 1891. Now is the time for lovers to get in their work.
A SHOWER which greatly refreshed vegetation and cooled the heated atmosphere fell Wednesday morning. For four or five days it has been terrifically hot.

NOTICE.—J. B. Higgins & Co. will supply you with Wooldridge or any other kind of coal you want. Come and see for yourselves and be convinced. J. B. Higgins & Co.

JAIL.—Cicero Singleton, who shot Dutch Gooch, at Waynesburg, Sunday, was lodged in jail here Wednesday, to await the result of his victim's wound. County Attorney J. B. Paxton, who went over to prosecute the case, says that the ball entered the forehead between the eyes and the surgeons have never been able to find where it went, consequently they can not say whether Gooch will recover or not.

ENGINE—3-horse power in fair condition, for sale cheap. Apply at this office.
ALL notes and accounts not paid by Sept. 1 will be placed in the hands of an officer for collection. J. F. Holdam, Crab Orchard.

ATTENTION, FARMERS.—See that your plow repairs have Oliver's name on them. Any others are counterfeit and will not give satisfaction. J. B. Foster.

THE K. C. will run another cheap excursion to the Deering Camp Meeting next Sunday, leaving Rowland at 5:30 A. M. and returning from the grounds at 4 P. M.

A MELON TRUST.—It is said that Anderson Nunnelly has bought up all the watermelons in the county and intends to form a corner to put up and keep up prices.

PROF. J. W. SMITH, one of the examiners, says that 18 of the 19 teachers examined passed, but only one, Mr. M. J. Brough, of Kingsville, got a first-class certificate. Mr. Brough now has five certificates of this grade from as many counties.

THE Parole board let six convicts out of the penitentiary at its last sitting, among them Joseph and Campbell Noel, of Mercer county, for 21 years each, for manslaughter; Thomas Rose, of Rockcastle county, for manslaughter, five years, and Hugh Jackson, of Laurel county, shooting with intent to kill, one year.

LAST week, Miss Martha Renner, a young lady living in Rockcastle county, was bitten by a mad hound which belonged to the family, and which had several fits before it was killed. Miss Renner has had no symptoms of hydrophobia, but it was thought best to apply a mad stone, and Tuesday Mr. John Renner came down and secured the one owned by Mr. Andy Elkin, of this place. Shoot the dogs; they are not only dangerous, but nuisances of the worst sort.

THE contract time in which Messrs. Hughes, Peyton & Co. were to put in the water works having expired, the city council is now negotiating with a Philadelphia firm with the probability of making a contract that will be performed. The rates to the town will be the same as in the other contract, but to citizens it will be higher. Mayor Vandever tells us suit for damages to the amount of $10,000 or more will be instituted against the firm that promised better than it performed.

THE L. & N. is doing a rushing business now over the Knoxville & Cumberland Valley Divisions. Capt. Frank Harris tells us that it has handled daily an average of four solid trains loaded with wheat for the last two weeks bound to the seaport for export. It comes from Indiana and points far up in Illinois. The rolling stock of the division is taxed to its utmost and the captain says he will have to have four more engines. The local freights have now to double back from Lebanon Junction every day.

THEATRICAL.—In addition to Blind Tom next week, the Walton Bros. have booked the following attractions for the coming season: Oct. 2, Boston Ideal Minstrels; Oct. 30, May Smith Robbins in "Little Trilixie, the Romp Heiress;" Nov. 12, Orson Clifford in "Avenge;" Nov. 17, "Dan McGinty's Troubles;" Nov. 26, "Atkinson's Jollities;" in the comic operatic absurdity, "The Electric Spark;" Dec. 12, Beach & Bowers' Minstrels; Dec. 26, "Midnight Alarm." Many other good companies are also writing for dates.

THE Teachers' Institute, which has been in session since Monday, has proved an unusually pleasant and profitable one to all concerned. Conductor S. J. Pulliam has filled his difficult position with much credit and the teachers are high in his praise. Supt. McClary deserves their thanks for selecting a countryman so worthy of the honor of presiding over the Institute and he is receiving them. The teachers are a good-looking and intelligent body and most of them take part in the discussions of the various questions. A full report of the proceedings is furnished by Secretary R. Lee Davis, which appears on our first page.

CAPT. HILL IN TROUBLE.—The Cincinnati papers contain accounts of the arrest and incarceration of ex-Chief of Police V. M. Hill, of Middlesboro, who used to live here, on the charge of obtaining money under false pretense from 28 Italians, who swear they gave him $5 a piece on his promise to secure them work in Cincinnati. Before getting there, however, he gave them the slip and the deluded creatures had to shift for themselves, and being without money they suffered considerably, till cared for by the police. Hill was arrested and jailed, when $750, some accounts of S. H. Bruce and other papers were found on person. He offered the policeman $100 not to lock him up, but it didn't work. Capt. Hill claims that the $5 he got from the men was to pay car fare and that he made nothing by the business. A correspondent at Middlesboro gives him a kick while he is down by saying he was the instigator of the recent troubles in which two policemen were shot and a man lynched, and was on the side of the law-breakers. He also says he runs a gambling saloon and is a most dangerous character.

—Financier Foster no doubt fully satisfies the wishes of his friends in Wall street, by his offer to extend the 4 1/2 per cent. bonds at maturity at 2 per cent. What the tax-payers demand is that he pay the bonds at maturity and stop the interest altogether. This could easily have been done but for the criminal extravagance and apathy of the billion-dollar Congress.—St. Louis Republic.

FOR SALE.—My house and lot and a good Jersey cow. J. A. Carpenter.

THE canvass for sheriff next term is beginning early. Mr. Robert R. Gentry is notifying his friends that he will be in the field, and the present incumbent, Mr. J. N. Menefee, will be a candidate for re-election.

It is somewhat remarkable that Stonewall Jackson Pulliam presides over the Teachers' Institute, while Robert Lee Davis records its proceedings. The names of these young gentlemen show where the hearts of their parents were during the war, and links them inseparably to the Lost Cause.

THE joint teachers' institute, colored, of the counties of Boyle, Lincoln and Garrard, will be held in the colored Methodist church, Danville, beginning August 31, and continue five days. All teachers now having schools under contract, or expecting to teach during the session of 1891-92, are required to attend.—Advocate.

DEATHS & DOINGS.
—The Peabody, Kas. Gazette records the death of Mrs. Jennie Williams, nee Cochran, at her home in Liberty, Mo., where she went recently a bride. Her age was 54.
—The many friends of James Harvey Brown in this vicinity were shocked to hear of his sudden death which occurred Wednesday morning at 3:30 at the residence of J. J. Walker near Lancaster. The night before Mr. Brown in company with several gentlemen went in bathing in Dix river. Shortly after going into the water he was taken with cramps, when his companions conveyed him at once to Mr. Walker's, but Mr. Brown continued to grow worse and in a few hours was a corpse. His lovely young wife, who was spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Williams, at Mt. Vernon, was immediately notified and the shock came near prostrating her. With her parents and brothers she started at once for the home, which she left a few weeks ago, to find him whom she had left in robust health, cold in the embrace of death. It was a fearful home-coming and one that made stouter hearts grow sick and faint. May He, who taketh care of the widow and orphan, comfort her in her sore bereavement. A dispatch says Mr. Brown was born in Lancaster August 6, 1861, and was a son of A. B. and Zerelda Brown. After a common-school education he began the study of law under Denny & Tomlinson, being admitted to the bar at that place in 1880. He was elected county-attorney on the democratic ticket in 1882, to which place he was re-elected in 1886. He was a good lawyer and much thought of by the members at the bar which passed highly eulogistic resolutions on his death.

HUBBLE.
—C. M. Adams has been giving us a sample of his new fence, which seems to be a good one besides a saving of rails. Mr. Maples and Mr. Johns, of Middlesboro, have been visiting at James Robinson's, of this place. Thomas Wood delivered some cattle that he bought of M. Luce for Time Cook for $3.85, weighing about 1,200 pounds. J. W. Bright sold his wheat to Marksbury for 75 cents, and will thresh at once. G. A. Swinebroad has gone to Tennessee after his third load of sheep. D. N. Prewitt is gathering up the fragments of lambs here at 4 cents, that nothing be lost. S. M. Spoonamore is pulling lumber to rebuild his blacksmith shop here. The Rush Branch and Lancaster & Danville pike Co's are tossing the gravel this week. The good work ought to go on till they both are made complete, and then we will not object to the fancy toll they have been charging. Hogs are so scarce here, not a "scent" can be raised by hog cholera. Corn prospect was never better here. J. E. Bruce, of Stanford, was here buying wheat for the Roller Mill, of that place, and offered 75 cents and the rise, but owing to the rough road to haul it over could not effect any purchases even if he had offered more than could be obtained elsewhere. This teaches the importance of good roads in all communities. Greenberry Bright has returned from Middlesboro after buying one lot in that place for Misses Lou and Jennie Bright. Mrs. Col. Rice gave a very splendid dinner Tuesday to Jacob and Jim B. Robinson and their friends who are in from Middlesboro for a few days. Mr. Leslie Carter is thought to be improving.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.
—John G. Lay, and Miss Betsy Ann Lay, both of the McKinney section, were married at the bride's father's yesterday.
—Fourteen convicts have escaped from the Briceville, Tenn., mines within the last week.
—The Y. M. C. A. owns property in this country to the amount of $12,250,000, has 225,000 members, and 1,083 paid officials.

—Financier Foster no doubt fully satisfies the wishes of his friends in Wall street, by his offer to extend the 4 1/2 per cent. bonds at maturity at 2 per cent. What the tax-payers demand is that he pay the bonds at maturity and stop the interest altogether. This could easily have been done but for the criminal extravagance and apathy of the billion-dollar Congress.—St. Louis Republic.

After the three parcels have thus been separately offered the entire tract will be offered as a whole and the bid or bids realizing the largest price will be accepted. by government agents, thus securing additional and perfect safety to depositors.

ized as the National Bank of Stanford in 1865 and again re-organized as the First National Bank of

New York Women Sail Yachts.
What the Harlem girls do not know about yachting is unworthy the consideration of the young men who pride themselves upon their sailing abilities.
There was a ladies' regatta of the Harlem Yacht club Saturday, in which the girls managed the boats and took the men along simply as ballast. The race was over the usual club course from a point off Riker's island and return. The distance is about three miles, but by going over the course three times a very respectable sail is obtained.
Seven yachts started—the Truant,
sailed by Mrs. O. H. Lang; Sophia, Miss
May McDonnell; Peerless, Mrs. G. V.
Fuller; Coquette, Miss Nellie Chard; Christenah, Miss Lucy Mahon; Path-
finder, Mrs. Fersenheim; and Annie A., Miss Annie Alton. The Sophia is a jib and mainsail twenty-seven foot yacht,
the Pathfinder, Truant and Annie A.
are open cats and the others are cabin
sloops.
The wind was very light at the start at 4:40 p. m., and against the tide it was hard to make the stakeboat at the dyke.
The Truant had the best of it and the Sophia was last to cross the line. Veer-ing to the southwest, the wind blew up stronger, and by the time Riker's island was neared, the girls said it was a spunking breeze. As the yachts were of different size and rig, three classes were made. The Truant, under Mrs. Lang's skillful guidance, was an easy winner in her class, while the Sophia and Peerless also won honors. Souvenirs were given to the ladies in the winning boats.
After a delightful sail, the yachts finished the race in the cool of the evening.

A Fortune in a Colt.
Five years ago "White Hat" McCarthy sold an old mare called Aurora to an obscure California thoroughbred breeder for $210. The following season
she gave foal to a big, rawboned colt, and at the yearling sale the embryonic race horse was knocked down to C. V.
Tupper for $85. Dan McCarthy's $210
was part of the purchase money for C.
H. Todd, which carried that patriotically ugly headgear to victory in a sensational American Derby and earned $12,000 for its eccentric owner. The bank roll of which Aurora's $210 was the nucleus grew into a fortune for Dan, who, with $30,000 of it, has purchased a lot of property on Jefferson street, in his city.
Aurora's ungainly son thickened into a seemingly looking youngster, was named Guido, showed some quality as a 2-
year-old, became a race horse last year, and was sold to W. H. H. Babb for $5,000. McCarthy got his warranty deed just in time to rush to Washington park and see Guido win a race at mile heats and smash a turf record that held a stereotyped place in the guides for ten years. In 1881 Brouse, a four-year-old, ninety pounds up, ran heats at Sheep-head Bay in 1:42 and 1:41. Guido's performance was immeasurably superior,
for with 117 pounds tilted upon his back,
he covered the circuit time in 1:41 and 1:41.—Chicago Herald.

Her Soul Wasn't "In It."
He was a young and zealous minister just down at Manhattan beach on his vacation. The fire of ambition filled his soul, and when he met Madge Slambang, the "belle of the beach," he became deeply interested in her religious condition at once. After being introduced he sat down beside her on the sand, and taking her hand in his, said to her in a deeply sympathetic voice,
"My dear Miss Slambang, how is it with your soul?" Madge Slambang was a Brooklyn girl of the most pronounced type, and as she looked the ambitious young minister square in the eye she replied, "Do you suppose that a girl who has to take a bath, play tennis, go driving, dress six times a day and dodge the attentions of mosquitoes, dudes and all the other nuisances which abound at watering places has any time left to think of her soul?" And then she shook out the folds of her bathing suit and plunged into the waves, leaving the young and zealous minister to ponder over the wickedness of human nature in general and of the summer girl in particular.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Good Goose Story, This.
The fog from the Pacific was so thick Thursday that millions of wild geese became bewildered and lit in Bartle's meadow, where they were caught by the sackful. The fog was so thick a man's hand could not be seen before his face, but everybody caught large numbers of geese, being attracted to them by the panting of the exhausted birds. By evening a cold snap occurred, and the next morning the geese were found in vast quantities, their feet frozen to fences, trees, etc., on which the birds had lit. Jerome Bartle and Uncle George Co estimated they had nine miles of rail fencing broken down by the weight of the geese.—Mount Cloud River Pioneer.

An Empress Draws the Line.
The empress of Germany has become so popular a godmother that she has been obliged to draw the line sharply in her own defense. Hereafter no little herr or fraulein may have the distinction of an imperial godmother unless at least one of his or her parents enjoys the imperial acquaintance. In other cases the baby must be content with 100 marks and a roll of linen, while his more successful brother infant disports himself in a beautiful cloak bearing the empress' monogram.—Exchange.

Dimes That Came in Handy.
Two young women of the Hill began last winter to save up the dimes and odd change that came into their possession, each using a baking powder box with a slit cut in the top for a treasure casket.
The result is that they both have cash enough on hand to pay the way for a four weeks' vacation trip, without drawing on the family reserves. Young man, that is just the way your soda and cigar
money counts up.—Springfield (Mass.)
Homestead.

Plans are being perfected for the extension of the Pennsylvanian railroad

posed by the Rutland Railroad company,

bonds and to provide for new construction, equipment, etc.

Kilburn J. Brown, a sleeping car conductor between Montreal and Boston, in the pillow boxes of his car. It is said that the frauds have been very extensive.

H. Walters announces his resignation as general manager of the Atlantic Coast successor in that position and T. M. Emerson traffic manager, with offices at this apparent piece of jugglery as vice president, a position which he retains.

AROUND THE THRONES.
Louis XVII of France never actually reigned.
Empress Eugenie has taken up the children of the late Prince Napoleon as a part solace for the grief and loneliness which fills her life.
The Prince of Wales is a direct descendant of King Alfred, being the thirty-third grandson of that monarch.
Singularly enough, he is also a 33 deg.
Mason.
The Duke of Edinburgh, as every one knows, is a violinist of no mean merit,
but for all that he does not disdain to do
a little tum-tumming on the banjo occasionally.

In February, 1877, Queen Victoria received from the empress of Brazil a dress woven entirely of spiders' webs, which for fineness and beauty is said to surpass
the most splendid silk.
An engagement has been arranged between the young king of Serbia and Princess Xenia, the daughter of the prince of Montenegro. The young lady is only eleven years of age. It has long been known that the czar favored such a match.

William possesses no fewer than fifty-one stars and crosses, including the insignia of seven Russian orders and one of the very few stars and ribbons which exist of the short lived Mexican Order of the Eagle, which was founded by the ill-fated Archduke Maximilian.
If the little king of Spain be excepted,
the emperor of China is the shortest of male monarchs, standing as he does only five feet in height. He must, however, in point of stature, take second place to Queen Victoria, whose height is four feet, ten inches. The house of Hohenzollern boasts of the greatest number of men of big stature.

There is some talk that the Australian horse Marvel may be sent to England to take a shy at some of the big handicaps.
It will be remembered that Marvel beat
the great Carbine at a mile in the spring.
The Fort Wayne pacing mare Strathos,
2:22, is driven without a bit, a strap around the head acting as a guide. It is said of her that she will pace a race as well without a driver as she will with one.
Green B. Morris, in a recent talk about jockeys, placed the leading riders
of the country as follows: McLaughlin, Taral, George Covington, Hamilton,
Isaac Murphy, Garrison. He said that the first three were the greatest in his opinion.

she grew worse rapidly until she was a mere
